

A PLACE TO BE

CULTURE AS EATING AND COOKING

Community Garden

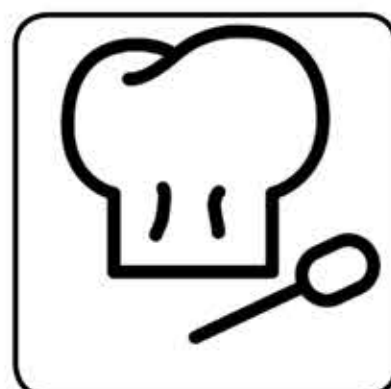

Community Kitchen

Market

Culinary Skills Development

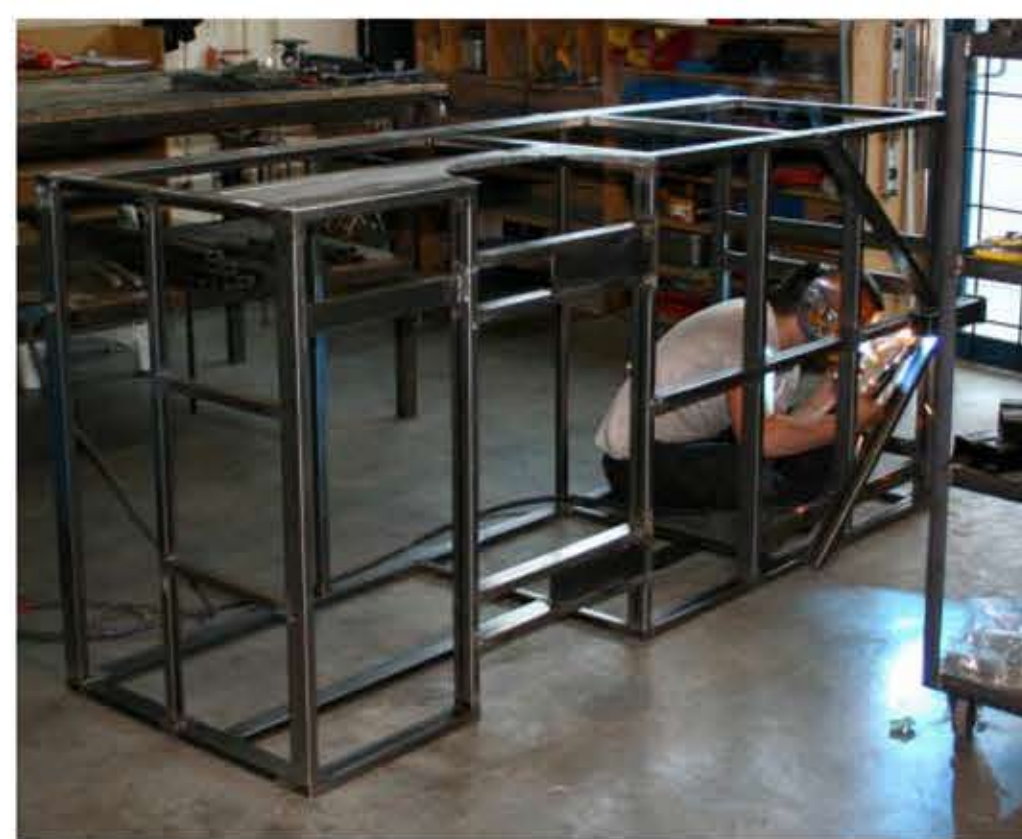

Event Catering

Education and Healthy Living

Small Business Support

The center will provide resources for individuals wanting to start a restaurant or a food cart. In addition to training, the space offers the food cart fabrication and assembly space

There is space for dining and a kitchen. Large gatherings and small market get togethers can take place in this interior gathering space. Guest chefs can visit during themed festivals to celebrate cultural cuisines.

Educational opportunities are provided for the community through cooking classes and workshops. In addition to this education in urban farming is also offered through the center's greenhouse.

Dedicated spaces to sit and eat together will be located near the garden. This large open space will make it easy for groups of any size to come together.